Ibicencan Vibe 16,80

Red Worm Mezcal, mango, jalapeño /peperoncino.

Dry Martini 17,35

Give me a dry, Martini. It seems that this is how the bar manager of the Knickerbocker Hotel in New York, who was called Mr. Martini, was asked for a dry cocktail back in 1910. Because of its popularity, the cocktail was eventually named after him.

London dry gin, Martini bianco dry

My Tom 14,70

Bombay Sapphire, lemon, and ibiscus soda

Classic Mojito 17,35

The mere mention of Mojito conjures up images of exciting Havana nights and takes consumers to the sunny shores of the Caribbean. Bacardi Carta Oro, lime, cane sugar syrup, soda

Piña Colada 17,35

Puerto Rico's national drink was created with simple Caribbean ingredients, but it's much more than a cocktail... it's passion. Bacardi Carta Oro, Malibu, coconut milk, and pineapple
